ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Investment properties are held to both earn rental income and for long term capital appreciation, but not for sale in the ordinary course of business, use in the production or supply of goods or services or for administrative purposes.

After initial recognition at cost including directly attributable transaction costs, investment properties are stated at fair value, on the basis of current market valuations made by registered public valuers on an annual basis. Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair values of investment properties are included in the profit or loss in the year in which they arise.

Gains or losses on the disposal on investment properties are recognised in the profit or loss in the period in which the risks and rewards of the investment property have been fully transferred to the purchaser.

The fair value of the investment property reflects, among other things, rental income from current leases and assumptions about rental income from future leases in the light of the current market conditions. The fair value also reflects, on a similar basis, the cash outflows that could be expected in respect of the property. The fair value also reflects, on a similar basis, the highest and best use of the property.

No depreciation or amortisation is provided for on investment properties. However, for tax purposes, depreciation is claimed on building fit out and a deferred tax liability is recognised where the building components of the registered valuation exceeds the tax book value of the building.

Fair value adjustments of the investment properties are recognised in Profit or Loss and then transferred to the Accumulated Losses Attribution Reserve.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS, ESTIMATES AND ASSUMPTIONS

Registered public valuers have been used to determine the fair value of investment properties. The fair value was determined using a combination of both direct capitalisation and discounted cash flow approaches. The discounted cash flow method is used to cross check against the value against the primary method, being the direct capitalisation method.

Using a direct capitalisation approach the subject property rental is divided by a market derived capitalisation rate to assess the market value of the asset. Further adjustments are then made to the market value to reflect under or over renting, additional revenue and required capital expenditure.

Discounted cash flow projections are based on estimates of future cash flows, supported by the terms of any existing lease and other contracts and by external evidence such as current (at the date of the statement of financial position) market rents for similar properties in the same location and condition, and using discount rates that reflect current market assessments of the uncertainty in the amount and timing of the cash flows.

NOTES

Fair value reflects the highest and best use of the investment property at the end of the reporting period. Investment property measurements are categorised as level 3 in the fair value hierarchy. During the period, there were no transfers of investment properties between levels of the fair value hierarchy.

The contents of the Fair Value hierarchy table are included within this note.

Valuation

The properties have not been revalued for the interim accounts for the six months ended 31 August 2021, as the Directors' have adopted the valuation completed as at 28 February 2021 by Mr G R Sellars of Colliers International Valuation (Christchurch) Limited. This represents the Directors' best estimate of fair value at 31 August 2021.

The properties were valued as at the 22 February 2021 by Mr G R Sellars, a registered valuer of the firm Colliers International Valuation (Christchurch) Limited. Mr Sellars is a member of the New Zealand Institute of Valuers Incorporated.

The valuation methodology adopted is the market income valuation approach which takes into account the current market rental income from rents received, and allowances for vacancies can be made.

Last year, the valuation methodology adopted was the market income valuation approach.

The ongoing social and economic impact of Covid-19, both domestically and on a global basis is providing elevated market risk at the current time. In some markets there is more certainty regarding 'post-Covid pricing' than others due to the subsequent transactional evidence, however there is increased latent risk across all asset classes and property sectors due to the impact of the pandemic. This risk relates to how the future will play out over the coming weeks, months and even years. As such this is not a variable that can be explicitly priced.

As per the accepted definition, a market value is "as at the valuation date" and is based on events and evidence up to that date. It reflects the sentiment at that point in time and the value on that day. Given these comments, the valuer notes the current economic conditions and latent potential volatility should be considered by the reader(s) of the valuation report and factored into considerations when referring to the valuation.

A capitalisation rate of 7.40% has been adopted this year under the market income valuation approach, with turnover and casual rent being capitalised at 9.50% and power recoveries and commissions income being capitalised at 8.00% to produce a market value of $125,580,000. As part of the valuation assessment, the discounted cashflow investment valuation approach was considered whilst adopting a discount rate of 9.50% to cross check the market income valuation.

There are no other material changes to the approach in the valuation methodology.

The assumptions Colliers have used in determining the value of the investment properties are as follows:

- 1 There will be no major economic downturn during the projection period, beyond that envisaged at the date of valuation.
- 2 The property manager will continue to manage the property in a prudent and professional manner.
- 3 There will be no new taxes or rates introduced which have a direct impact on the property over the projected period.
- 4 Market rents have been used in lieu of the actual lease agreements due to the development being completed and the majority of new leases reflect the current market conditions.
- 5 A prudent 3% perpetual vacancy allowance has been made for general turnover of tenants and the time it takes to re-fill the tenancy.
- 6 The dycore cracking repairs will be covered by an insurance claim. Thus the valuation has not been adjusted to allow for the cost of these works.

The table below explains the key inputs used to measure fair value for investment properties.

Valuation Techniques

| Market Income Valuation Approach                   | A valuation technique which determines fair value by assessing the current market rental for the property, and capitalising at an appropriate yield. Adjustments can then be made for vacancies and other capital adjustments (i.e. difference in contract rent) where appropriate.                                    |
| Discounted Cash Flow Investment Valuation Approach | A valuation technique which requires explicit assumptions to be made regarding the prospective income and expenses of a property over an assumed holding period, typically ten years. The assessed cash flows are discounted to present value at an appropriate, market-derived discount rate to determine fair value. |

| Discount Rate                | DCF         | Decrease                         | Increase                         |
| Terminal Capitalisation Rate | DCF         | Decrease                         | Increase                         |

Due to the number of variables that go into the valuation of the investment property, the financial impact on the fair value cannot be reliably determined.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Fair value measurement on seismic strengthening work is only applied if the fair value is considered to be reliably measureable.

In order to evaluate whether the fair value of the seismic strengthening work can be determined reliably the Board considers the following factors, among others:

- The provisions of the construction contract.
- The projections as determined by the independent quantity surveyor.
- The stage of completion.
- Whether the project is standard (typical for the market) or non standard.
- The level of reliability of cash inflows after completion.
- The development risk specific to the property.
- Past experience with similar constructions.
- Status of construction permits.

Where fair value cannot be determined, seismic strengthening costs are identified and recognised at cost until completion of the works.

NOTES

Capital work in progress had additions of $1,486,577, which do not include any capitalised interest for the six months ended 31 August 2021.

(Year Ended 28 February 2021: $1,977,631 / $0).

Capital Works in Progress are initially carried at cost. The value of Capital Works in Progress is assessed annually by the Directors. Where there is evidence that costs previously capitalised no longer meet the criteria, or are no longer relevant, they are written off.

Seismic Strengthening Work is initially carried at cost. The value of Seismic Strengthening Work costs is assessed annually by the Directors. Where there is evidence that costs previously capitalised no longer meet the criteria, or are no longer relevant, they are written off.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Group enters into retail leases with tenants on its investment property. The Group has determined that it retains all significant risks and rewards of ownership and has therefore classified the leases as operating leases.

Rental income from investment properties is recognised in the profit or loss on a straight line basis over the term of the lease. Where lease incentives are offered, they will be capitalised within the Statement of Financial Position and amortised on a straight line basis only over the length of the lease to which they relate. Contingent rents associated with leases entered into with tenants are recognised in revenue when the factors triggering contingent rents occur.

Covid-19 Rent Relief provided to tenants did not meet the requirements to be treated as a lease modification, and as a result the variable lease payments were recognised in Profit or Loss at the time that the reduction was triggered.

All receivables are considered collectable as they are trading within current terms.

The Group applies the NZ IFRS 9 simplified approach to measuring expected credit losses using an expected credit loss provision for trade receivables. To measure expected credit losses on a collective basis, trade receivables are grouped based on a similar credit risk.

The expected loss rates are based on the Group's current at risk tenants over the debtors total (including OPEX and marketing).

18 Covid-19 Global Pandemic

On 17 August 2021, New Zealand entered into a nationwide Alert Level 4 lockdown. Areas outside of Auckland moved to Level 3 on 31 August 2021 then Level 2 on 7 September 2021. Auckland moved to Level 3 on 21 September 2021. During Alert Levels 3 and 4 the operation of many of the Group's tenants were restricted to varying degrees, and at Alert Level 2 businesses were able to operate with restrictions in place around social distancing and mass gatherings.

This lockdown has resulted in the Group offering further rental relief across the majority of the Group's tenants.

This rent relief included abatements for rental income payable in September 2021. As a result of the abatement being applied in September 2021, the financial impact has not been recognised during this six month period. The full impact will be known when the financial statements for the year ended 28 February 2022 are completed.
